The Conference Programme

The DTA 2010 Conference Programme will address critical issues and center discussions through presentations and panels around the thematic areas of:

Naval Surface Ships (NAVSA)

Naval Surface Ships is a constant challenge for the Navies of today. The needs of today's Navies demand platforms and systems that work both in the littoral and in blue waters. The traditional platforms and systems are undergoing changes to meet modern day challenges and this track addresses this highly strategic area in the Naval Domain.

Submarine and ASW (SASW)

The current trend in Asia indicates that Submarine and ASW is a vital part of the national naval defence strategies. This track explores the needs of this highly technical and complex area both from the standpoint of technologies and strategies.

Unmanned Vehicles & Systems (UVS)

The biggest explosion in technology and strategy over the past few years has been in the area of Unmanned Vehicles and Systems. This area is vital to a modern day navy because it provides for a relatively safe way to approach the challenges faced by today's 3rd generation Navies. This area is riding on a wave of technology advancements and the at DTA, we aim to bring the best in breed Unmanned platforms and strategies to the Navies of the Region.
